A photograph showing the interior of a truck cab. The view is from the driver's perspective, looking out through the windshield. The interior features a black seat on the left, a red carpeted floor, and a black steering wheel. The dashboard and various controls are visible on the right side. Outside the windshield, a yellow piece of heavy machinery is visible on a construction site.

A close-up photograph of a weathered metal door. The door is a light, yellowish-tan color with visible rust and dirt. On the left, there is a horizontal metal handle. To the right, a vertical metal latch mechanism is mounted, featuring a smaller handle and a locking bolt. A faint, circular stamp or logo is visible on the metal plate of the latch. The background is a blurred outdoor scene with a clear blue sky and some industrial equipment in the distance.
